The Most Historic Town in Lancaster County

Established in the early 1700s, Strasburg remains much the same. The old town charm quickly takes hold as you stroll past quaint shops on tree-lined streets and hear the clip-clop of Amish horse and buggies going on their way. With each step, you step back in time – to the days when the town served as a trade center and stagecoach stop between Philadelphia and Lancaster.

From cozy bed and breakfasts to magnificent theatrical productions to unique quaint shops and one of the largest outlet malls in the state nearby – Strasburg has something for everyone!
